Benefit Consulting

Sharing expertise – delivering successful solutions

Established to challenge the status quo, we offer a different approach to benefits consulting. Whether you are thinking of offering benefits for the first time, or reviewing a benefit strategy that has simply evolved over time, we have the knowledge and expertise to add real value to your business. Being completely independent, we provide truly impartial advice.

If you have benefits strategy in place already we can help you assess:

- The competitiveness of your offering compared with your competitors
- The appropriateness of the package recognizing employee diversity
- That the benefits match your contractual obligations and whether there are uninsured liabilities
- Whether you are getting value for money from suppliers/advisers
- The effectiveness of employee communications and the level of awareness/understanding/appreciation among your employees
- Operational efficiencies to reduce your internal workload

If you are thinking of introducing new benefits or offering employees greater choice we can help you assess:

- Whether there is a business case
- Operational issues will need to be overcome
- Which benefits to add/flex and assist with the broking/sourcing of appropriate suppliers
- Which administration/technology platform will best meet your needs
- The most effect means of communicating with employees

We have particular expertise in advising on and managing all aspects of pension provision, from Stakeholder and Group Personal Pensions to Defined Benefit or Final Salary Schemes.

Our sister company Premier Pensions Management offers, pension consulting, actuarial advice and administration services, enabling us to provide a true “one stop shop” service to our clients.
